Re: United States v. Camara Brooks
07 Cr. 565

Dear Judge Buchwald:

I write on behalf of my client Camara Brooks, to respectfully request that the Court modify the bail conditions imposed by the Court on June 1st, 2007. At that time, Magistrate Judge Peck imposed the following conditions: a $200,000 personal recognizance bond co-signed by four financially responsible persons plus his fiancé and grandmother for moral suasion, strict pre-trial supervision with drug testing and treatment, surrender of travel documents and travel restricted to the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York, home detention with electronic monitoring, GPS monitoring if possible, and allowance out of the home for work (6:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.), court, attorney visits, and medical appointments.

I write to request that Mr. Brooks be allowed out of home detention until 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 31st, 2007, for the purpose of taking his son trick-or-treating. I have spoken with Assistant United States Attorney John Thomas Zach, Esq., on behalf of the Government, and he consents to this application.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

Jennifer L. Brown
